“As a recent graduate, the Future Leaders Program has been an excellent way for myself and my peers to continue being engaged with the UQ community and create new connections. From the initial welcome event to the ongoing mentoring and networking opportunities, I've found the program to be an enriching experience.”

Madalyn Conwell, Class of 2019 Future Leader

Program benefits

- Welcome pack
- Official letter of recognition
- Access to the broader alumni community with personalised support on UQ A2A mentoring platform
- Opportunities to present at UQ lectures and alumni events
- Invitations to exclusive Future Leaders networking events and professional development opportunities
- Access to UQ Future Leaders LinkedIn community to connect and share ideas with like-minded alumni

“The Future Leaders Program has allowed me to easily continue to foster relationships with the broader alumni community. I've had the chance to connect with industry leaders I have met through leadership and networking events and it has elevated my professional network. I highly recommend this program for any recent graduates.”

Eka Stiyawan, Class of 2017 Future Leader

Who can apply? All final year UQ students under the age of 35 who have demonstrated high engagement with UQ are eligible to apply online at alumni.uq.edu.au/futureleaders. Applications open 1 October and close 1 November. Applicants will be notified of the outcome a week after the closing date.
